regarding Harvard,

e-mail to Jayanta Sircar bounced back. e-mail to the contact-us address, resulted in the message below from Rob Parrott - I've asked him for a conversation about this.

also of note is the hpcwire article below, especially with SBGrid rooted in the HMS:

Hi John,

Thanks for your email.

With some regret, we have stopped active development on CrimsonGrid due to lack of interest from the Faculty, and are looking in the direction of cloud computing presently. Let me know how this fits into your interests and goals.

thanks,
rob
